

13:13

Feels like the world is getting deeper, and darker
Feels like it's all coming around now
And in my bones I feel a shaking, a breaking, a turning, a changing
I see the tide is creeping closer
And silently I watch it all unveil

It's falling, free-wheeling
It's all crashing down
It's raging round us, changing
Hold on to what you know so you don't start breaking
'Cuz it's crumbling, and it's wasting away
This crescendo's building with every day
I see it, we feel it
This reality will fade

Seems like the sun is shining hotter, and brighter
Seems like the moon is growing cold
The light is burning, and rising, and surging
You love never grows old
Feels like the clock is ticking faster
The countdown timer has been set
It's all coming tumbling down, how long is left?

It's falling, free-wheeling
It's all crashing down
It's raging round us, changing
Hold on to what you know so you don't start breaking
'Cuz it's crumbling, and it's wasting away
This crescendo's building with every day
I see it, we feel it
This reality will fade
