

Beautiful Horizon

Not for today but tomorrow
Joyful in pain and in sorrow, fighting
Not for myself but for others
Not for this world but another, finding

*It's a beautiful horizon
It's the beautiful dawn of a beautiful day
If I open my eyes up
I can see that it's all okay, it's all oh*

Living your life like you've lost it
Loving in spite of the cost it brings
Giving away what you need most
Down in the dust we will live like kings
Fighting for those who fight you
Bleeding for people who make you bleed
Down in the dirt and the grime and the hurt
We are freer than we've ever been

*It's a beautiful horizon
It's the beautiful dawn of a beautiful day
If I open my eyes up
I can see that it's all okay
Life is so much less, so much more
Than everything I've been taught, and Lord
There's no one I'd rather lose for*

What good is it to gain the world
But lose your soul?
He gives me life, he gives me breath
He makes me whole

*It's a beautiful horizon
It's the beautiful dawn of a beautiful day
If I open my eyes up
I can see that it's all okay
Life is so much less, so much more
Than everything I've been taught, and Lord
There's no one I'd rather lose for*
